DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-22 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 2, 11-13 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sullivan et al. US patent No. 6,615,240.
4. As to claims 1, 2, 11, 12, 13, and 22 Sullivan teaches a system comprising “the client” (fig. 1, index 10), “a server” (fig 1 index 12), “a communications line” (fig. 1, index 14), “a primary answer section” (col. 7, lines 44-61), “a Client information accumulation section” (col. 8, lines 8-51), “a secondary answer request section” (col. 8 lines 30-51), and “a secondary answer section” (col. 10, lines 45-56).
5. As to claims 3 and 14 “displays said communication start instruction (col. 10 lines 7-28).
6. As to claims 4, 6 15 and 17 “”transmitted to a window” (col. 3, lines 45-62).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 5, 7-10, 16 and 18-21 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sullivan as applied to claim 1-4 or 12-15 above, and further in view of Galdes et al. US patent No. 6,177,932.

Sullivan does not detail "email". Galdes et al describes a similar help system, which includes e-mail (col. 4, lines 41-53).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the DP art at the time of the applicant's invention to combine the teachings of Galdes and Sullivan because being able to submit questions to server expert through e-mail allows submittal when the user is not able to directly contact the expert the system improving the versatility of the DP system.
